As Australia is the most multicultural nation in the world, the vision of Asian Pacific Institute (API) in 1998 was to ensure that Multiculturalism would be reflected in all its educational pathways. API has therefore been acknowledged as being the very first college in the nation to provide unique multicultural courses, including language training. Since then, API has welcomed students from at least 30 nationalities over the last 11 years of its operations.

API recognizes the vital importance of language as the key communication tool to bring, bridge and build people across nations. Its qualified, accredited certificates provide pathways for further tertiary study or employment opportunities in Australia.

API also partners with the Multicultural Community Centre to serve the community by providing practical training courses that meet the needs of new migrants. It aims to provide broader opportunities for its overseas students to experience key facets of Australian living. Students enrolling at API will be warmly welcomed and will be assured of a friendly, caring environment.
